The Holy Spirit Can Leave Us

... However, if we stray from Him He is compelled to leave us as orphans again (Hebrews 6:5-6). This is part of free will.

What should we do when we realize that we have sinned against God? It's going to happen from time to time.... We drift, we are offended, or we run away. There is a difference between drifting away from God, being forced out, and leaving His fold. Consider Luke 15 and the three lost things. One was lost accidentally (sheep), one was lost carelessly (coin), and another was lost willingly and rebelliously (son/boy). Like the sheep we may drift, but others may help to retrieve us. Like the coin we may get misplaced, but careless words/actions should be confronted. Like the son/boy we may just leave God out of rebellion. The solution is simple... confess your sins and start a new walk by faith with Him in fellowship (Proverbs 28:13, Galatians 5:16, 25-26, I John 1:9-10). Don't run away from God, run toward God! Turn back to Him!

God wants to forgive you. He has created you with a glorious purpose. He has provided a way for salvation. He is preparing your reserved spot in heaven right now. Don't allow anything to get between you and the God who loves you!
